Hi Randy
Your attitude & personality this year has been Randy - It has been & pleasure & walk with all Randy - now this year for there all I can get Les just grunt!"

Yo a swell guy I've known for years! Be happy Brian

Randy - It's been a real pleasure knowing you - ever since our tap dance lessons. You are one of the kindest people I know
May joy and good fortune be yours in all the years to come.
Love,
Gail Parks

Dear Randy:

If in Heaven we don't meet Hand in Hand we'll stand the heat, and if it gets intensely hot, Coco-Cola hits the spot;
Days are for dogs, nights
for cats, so-o-o-o,
I'll see you cat, later!
Randy, Keep your wonderfully pleasant personality and luck to you in all your future plans;
Love, Always,
Linda Barber

Randy -
It's been a pleasure knowing you all this last year (and this includes Wednesday, your unexpected visit). Thanks for the memories, and I hope our paths cross again sometime.
Love,
Karen Forrestor

Dear Randy,
It's been such a pleasure knowing you this year. You're such a darling and considerate person.
Have a wonderful summer, and the best of luck in the future years (hope they will be filled with happiness and success)
Be good, stay sweet, and may God bless you always Love, Lynn

Randy,
Congratulations are an important accomplishment!
I wish you all the luck in the world. Success and happiness, also!
Love,
Beverly Becky

You're a real sweet guy. Our friendship has ceased this year but we were certainly in school last year. God Bless you, always and forever!

dedication to an american

" . . . a wise man looks into space, and does not regard the small as too little, nor the great as too big; for he knows there is no limit to dimensions . . . " So stated Lao-tse some centuries ago.

In our time, there lived such a man. He never minimized the challenge . . . the challenge of a responsibility that extended to the whole family of mankind, for he said, "The people of the world respect a nation which can see beyond its own image."

Confronted with issues involving human destiny, he was caught between two worlds. No greater burden had to be sustained by any man in the history of the race, and yet he did not shrink from these questions. He was a man in full command, prepared . . . prepared to say, "The problems of human destiny are not beyond the reach of human beings'" . . . prepared to say, "We are not helpless before that task or hopeless of its success. We labor . . . toward . . . peace."

We, the Falcon staff, dedicate the 1964 Falcon to a wise man: John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

CLASS OF 1964

Rita Cordova
Vice-President

Gail Johnson
Secretary

The first venture of the class of '64 in its senior year was to quench the thirst of Knight rooters by selling cokes at football games. On November 13-16 the senior class sponsored a Book Fair that resulted in a student body that actually READ and $356.31 for the senior class treasury. Even rain couldn't dampen the spirits of the hardy audience which watched the senior girls play a mud-streaked game of Powder Puff football, November 14, during which the Babes squeezed by the Puffettes 7-6. When Spirit Week came along, Castlemont students noted that the seniors, who sold candy apples on November 7, were the best salesmen. The $57.92 in profit made by the seniors was the largest amount made for a class treasury during Spirit Week, and their delicious candied apples were the most enjoyed sales item! From all indications the spring activities will be as successful as those past. If this is true, the Class of '64 will be one of the most notable classes ever to leave Castlemont.

Serving as your senior class president for the spring semester of 1964 has been a wonderful privilege and honor, one for which I am very thankful. Ours is and always will be a very unique and special class. None other has ever shared the experiences that we have. We have spent an undeniably great length of time together. During that period of time we have worked together and sought to make our three years here at Ye Castle the best possible. This year we all shared the experience of our Powder Puff football and Senior-Faculty basketball games, along with our Senior Dinner and the Senior Ball, the true night of Knights. All these past experiences have meant a lot to us. They've made our three year stay a happy and successful one. After this year we may never see each other again. Each of us will go his own separate way. But, no matter where we go, we will always carry a part of the class with us. No one can ever take that away from us. With this in your possession I wish each and every one of you the best life has to offer, and I thank you for allowing me to play the part that I have in our life at Castlemont.

CANDIDS

Let us prove that "vigor," one of the late President John F. Kenedy's most endearing qualities, is one which we, as the youth of the nation, will in the future apply to our daily lives. In this past year, Castlemont seniors have applied themselves vigorously to their academic and extracurricular activities. In athletics we cannot forget our vigorous efforts to win nor our courage in losing. In our studies we have striven to achieve academic standards that will enable us to meet the future prepared and unafraid, ready to help keep ourselves and our nation free. Whether going to college to pursue a degree or leaving with a high school diploma to obtain a job, no matter which we choose to do, we are all still the backbone of our nation. As young persons of a new generation, we all breathe the same air, the air of freedom. Living in a nuclear and space age, thus occupying a new frontier in history, we must use vigor and courage in order that we may combat ignorance and preserve truth. Only our knowledge, personal integrity, and belief in freedom and justice can keep our nation strong and give us a sense of personal and national purpose.

"Education is both the foundation and the unifying force of our democratic way of life – it is the mainspring of our economic and social progress – it is the highest expression of achievement in our society, ennobling and enriching human life. As the fall sophomore class president, I shall relate to you our part in contributing to the class history of this past year at Ye Castle. It has been a great experience and pleasure to work in your behalf. Since I entered the halls of Castlemont, an over-aged junior high student knowing few if any outside of my little circle of friends, I have been impressed with the warm feeling of friendliness I received from my fellow Castlemont classmates. In the beginning of my office, I had a problem of inviting all of the sophomores to act as one team. It seemed that all clung to their junior high crowds and each crowd had a different opinion about something. However, the feeling of friendliness exhibited by our upperclassmen upon our arrival has brought us closer in trying to know each other and has united us into one class. I've been very pleased with the team work and the cooperation I have received from the sophomore class, and I hope we will remain a spirited and united class through the remainder of our school days.

CLASS OF 1966

Debbie Kong
Vice-President

Hello! Here I am again as your spring sophomore president. It doesn't seem as if we bewildered sophomores already can have made it through a whole semester. It's been a real honor to serve as the president of all girls council. It was a lot of work organizing class meetings, setting up our "Bottle-up" booth in the Carnival Dance, initiating the pink popcorn sale, and planning our sophomore "Casual Hours" dance. Ours has been the largest class ever to enter Castlemont. We have taken an active part in all school activities, more than any class preceding us has. More important still, I feel we have made great strides toward securing that all-important high school diploma and beginning to serve as responsible citizens of our community. Let's keep up the good work and make our class the finest to ever graduate from Ye Castle!

● SOPHOMORE CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

Randy, I've been a lot of fun knowing you this year in retailing - I know you will go far in life. You deserve the best with a personality as sweet as yours. Best wishes

Love
Ellen
- 64 -

This year the sophomore class added over 1000 students to the total enrollment of Castlemont High School. These students also contributed in leadership, intellect and ability to our school. From the time they entered school in September of 1963 until the time that they leave, diploma in hand, in June of 1966, they will be engaged in activities that contribute to the process of their education and maturity. Three years stand between the sophomore class and the adult world; three years that will be filled with fun, frustration, first love, and, hopefully, the first step toward adulthood.

Voting for officers while in school and having a voice in student activities, develops us into better men and women. We are more educated in government and democracy, which should cause us to be better citizens of the United States. As junior class president, I learned and experienced many things that will help me in the future. I can't say that my term as president was all fun and no work, because it was far from it. One cannot begin to know the work that is involved in representing the thoughts and desires of 900 people, until he is thrust into the situation. There is always the desire to please everyone and to work hard for those that mean so much. This desire is what made my work easier. Going hand in hand with that desire is how well one is supported. Many students were wonderful. They were willing to come early or to stay late in order to work for their class. Those students included the hard working salesmen that sold popcorn at the home football games, the salesmen that sold Missles on one cold rainy sales day, and, finally, the students that backed the Junior Prom November 8, by continuously working. My sincerity can only be expressed, for no words can relate what my heart feels. To the junior class, I wish the best of luck in everything.

My term as junior class president was truly a great pleasure. I enjoyed working with my cabinet in getting together class activities, but I must admit it took plenty of work. During my term as class president, the juniors sponsored three activities. First of all, we contributed to the student body Carnival Dance March 20, sponsoring and operating a football toss. It was full of fun for all involved. Our second activity was a Spring Missle and Coke sale, which was quite successful because of the hot spring weather. The activity that ended our junior year was one of the greatest events held this spring, our junior class Swim Party on May 14. Again I would like to say I enjoyed leading my class in its activities. I would also like to say that none of this would have been possible without the juniors cooperation. Next semester we will be the senior class, and I think our class will be simply GREAT!

"Two down and one to go" is the story of the junior class. Memories mount as the past two years drift by the class of 1965. At the close of next year the junior class will be released from the "security" of high school, and society's pressure will begin to bear down upon them. Will they be ready for this transition? Last year, as sophomores, a foundation of knowledge was set down. This year, as juniors, they built on that foundation, adding additional knowledge and maturity. Next year the class of '65 will be seniors. The last year of high school will be the final testing grounds to prepare a structure strong enough to stand alone. Education is the ingredient necessary to bind together the structure from foundation to ceiling. Education, or its lack, will be its strength or its downfall.

DRAMA

ADVANCED DRAMA CLASS

Pontus, Capital of the land of the Amazons, where the women are the hearty warriors and the men perform domestic tasks, was the setting transplanted to the Castlemont stage by the Castle Players, December 12 and 13.

Things go smoothly until the Gods command Hercules to go forth and capture the charmed Girdle of Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons. This girdle insures woman's dominant position in this land. This situation provided many humorous incidents in "The Warrior's Husband," Julian Thompson's fine comedy.

"SEVENTEEN"

The Broadway musical "Seventeen" was performed before a near-capacity audience in the Castlemont auditorium February 28 and 29. On these dates the stage was changed to 1907 in Indianapolis, Indiana and the walls echoed the strains of such songs as "Things Are Gonna Hum This Summer," "After All, It's Spring," and "The Hoosier Way." It has been several years since a production of this sort which combined the talents of the drama, vocal music and instrumental music departments has been performed here.

"Seventeen," adapted from the book by Booth Tarkington, was directed by Mr. Larry Darling, drama coach, with Mr. Phillip Eaton and Mr. Gary Smith assisting with the choral and instrumental aspects, respectively.

Randy,
I'm glad I got to know you and Wendy. I hope next year and during the summer I'll be seeing you. You have a really bold personality, so never change. Good luck always.

ACTIVITY CANDIDS

Football queen contestant tours field.

For a brief shining period we were fortunate to have a man of gallantry and of action as leader of our country. The late president was so a part of our lives that it is apparent in many ways. The activity section can share a spark of identity with Mr. Kennedy. In all his busy schedules, President Kennedy took time for the things he loved to do. This included especially his interests in the arts. At Castlemont we also take time and energy for the creative aspects of life.

John F. Kennedy loved the noble art of politics. On his election eve he stated, "I run for the presidency because it is the center of action . . . " This is true in our own school. Our student government program is the center of action and the wheel around which the entire activity program revolves. Here we have given recognition to the politicians of our student government.

As a man John F. Kennedy was an inspiration. He was a man of vast resources and interests. Our country took these from him, and his administration accentuated a mood in America that encouraged all forms of art and entertainment. This is revealed in the different aspects of the activity section.

The people directly responsible for the success of an administration are not only those whose voices and faces we are most familiar with, but also many who work "behind the scenes". This is true of any administration and the activities section has attempted to recognize these people; however, personal satisfaction far exceeds any compensation that may be given in this section.

Coach Nick Garedakis led an excellent Junior Varsity squad through an outstanding season. The JV's went through the season undefeated. With such a strong Junior Varsity team, we are confident that Castlemont will win the O.A.L. Championship next year.

Three of the outstanding Junior Varsity players were, Larry Dumas, Frankie Slaton, and Vaughn Joshua, who will all return next year to provide the Varsity squad with the speed and coordination necessary to a championship football team. Coach Garedakis said about his Junior Varsity squad that, "The most important asset of our Junior Varsity team was that they always had the knowledge of what a team can do and how that team can rise from seeming defeat."

They also know that in order to win in any game they must play as a team because one man doesn't win a game, it's a team effort.

Castlemont High School kicked off its fabulous 1963 grid season with a win and a loss in practice games. The determined Knights took the loss in stride and went on to win the two remaining practice games. In the OAL opener, the Crusader grid team aimed its big guns at Oakland Technical Bulldogs and walked away with a 19-0 victory. This story was repeated by the Knights many times. Their defensive team was like a brick wall. No team was able to score against their stout defense until the Fermont Tigers, in a surprise upset, beat the Knights. But, being the great football team that they are, the Castlemont eleven pulled themselves together seeking revenge — and revenge they got. They went on to upset Oakland High's Wildcats 18-12, to win first place in a three-way tie for the OAL crown. With the great coaching of Coach M. Stone, the fine assistance of Coach John Mackey, and the outstanding performance of all its athletes, Castlemont could now be called the "NEW School of Champions."

Going into the league games, the tennis team relied heavily on returning All-City players Gary Davis and Paul McCarroll. The team is shooting for its third consecutive championship. Coach John Mackey says, "Although practice was not highly successful, I do consider our chances for a third consecutive championship excellent." Also, commenting on the Castlemont golf team, Mr. Mackey stated, "Our golf team is composed of all first year men, and I consider this to be a building year for us. Next year we should see some very good golfers."

Coach Richard Klier

Coaching the Castle gymnasts, himself a Castlemont graduate, is Coach Richard Klier. Mr. Klier is now the coach of a potential championship gymnastics team. The varsity gymnasts have a lot of ability and determination and could possibly win the OAL crown this year. Coach Klier also boasts an outstanding sophomore contingent. They are Steve Alfred, Tyrone Carney, Jim Duran, Rodney Harris, John Martinez, Manuel Mejia, Wayne Thomas, Albert Thompson, and Clarence Willis. We will be looking forward to these boys returning to Ye Castle next year to form the nucleus what we know will be a championship team. In the words of Coach Klier, "They are a fine group of sophomores who show a lot of promise." They have shown they are deserving of being called Castlemont Knights.

Although this year's Knight varsity basketball squad placed fourth in the final OAL standings, they were seriously contending in every game but one, that one being against the Tigers of Fremont. Their unimpressive record of 4-6 is not a clue to their real success, which was playing as well as they did with all the handicaps they had. Leading the Castlemont hardwood squad was Coach John Mackey. Bad breaks, injuries, and games lost by a few points, left the Knights with what can be considered a poor season. This just about sums up the Crusaders reasons for a fourth place standing in the league.

With the continued fine coaching of Mr. Mackey, and the absence of bad breaks and injuries, the Knights hardwood squad should do much better next year, and, perhaps, they will participate in the Tournament of Champions.

This year, under the watchful eye of Coach Harold Seifer, the junior varsity basketball team finished third in the league. Having a very successful season, the jayvees finished 6-4, one game behind the second place team which posted a 7-3 season. The junior Knights had a 12-8 total season record, including practice games. The leading high point men were Ray Mack and Lacy White. Preston Pleasants and Marvin Campbell were the most outstanding on rebounds. Some other junior cagers who did a fine job during the hardwood season were Von Joshua and Melvin Simpson both of whom showed improvement throughout the season.

The coach of the Castlemont varsity track team, Coach Nick Garedakis made these very interesting comments. He stated, "The reason Castlemont is so good and known for its track team is that to atttain true greatness it takes more than running and winning a race; it takes hard work in training and understanding in which a person can attain his ultimate keep."

Coach Garedakis also added another interesting comment concerning the junior varsity track team. They have been undefeated in five years, an outstanding achievement for any team anywhere.

Leading the '64 varsity baseball team is Coach Harold Siefer. The Knight horsehiders, who lost the OAL in a close finish to their arch rivals Oakland Tech last season, are back this year stronger than before. The league competition is stronger, too. The outlook for Mr. Siefer's diamond nine looks good, and we expect Castlemont to come out on top, of course.

Last year's OAL swim champions are this year headed by a new coach. Coach David Fairfield is the new swimming coach, and he has started his team in meets against such tough competitors as Alameda High, which was number one in the state last year, and San Francisco State junior varsity. This, Coach Fairfield says, is to prepare the team for the tough meets to come in the OAL. "I believe our toughest competition this season will be Skyline High. The Titans seem to be pretty strong this year. We have to watch out for any surprises, because we know from experience that anything can happen," states Mr. Fairfield.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

June 12, 1964

As we approach the end of another school year, I am moved to commend the faculty, students and staff for their excellent spirit of cooperation, friendliness, understanding and esprit-de-corps that has been so evident throughout this year — in the classrooms, as well as in all of our activities.

I am proud of you students for having learned to live with others, for accepting your peers as as individuals, and for upholding the spirit and philosophy of this fine school. I am proud of the faculty for their dedication and zeal in striving to achieve the finest education possible for their students.

SPECIAL FIELDS

In our school system, there are two groups of people who are the recipients of respect and admiration. One group includes the teachers, counselors, and administrators who, after extensive education and specialized training, have accepted the responsibility of educating and inspiring the youth of America. They strive to give each student a goal in life compatible with his abilities and coinciding with his own ambitions. To adapt the student to the social pressures he experiences within the school and those which he will encounter after leaving school has become of paramount importance to the educator, administrator, and counselor of today. The other group of people includes the unsung heroes, the clerical and custodial staff members who show infinite patience with the students and faculty and provide them with many necessary services. They are essential in keeping the wheels of educational progress rolling smoothly. To our respect and admiration for such people. our late President Kennedy added his. He knew that our government, in order to run efficiently and to satisfy the wants of its citizens, has to be supported by the type of citizens these people strive to form—mature, intellectually aware, socially adjusted, culturally oriented, informed and concerned about national and international affairs and with a desire to bring about and ensure peace and liberty.

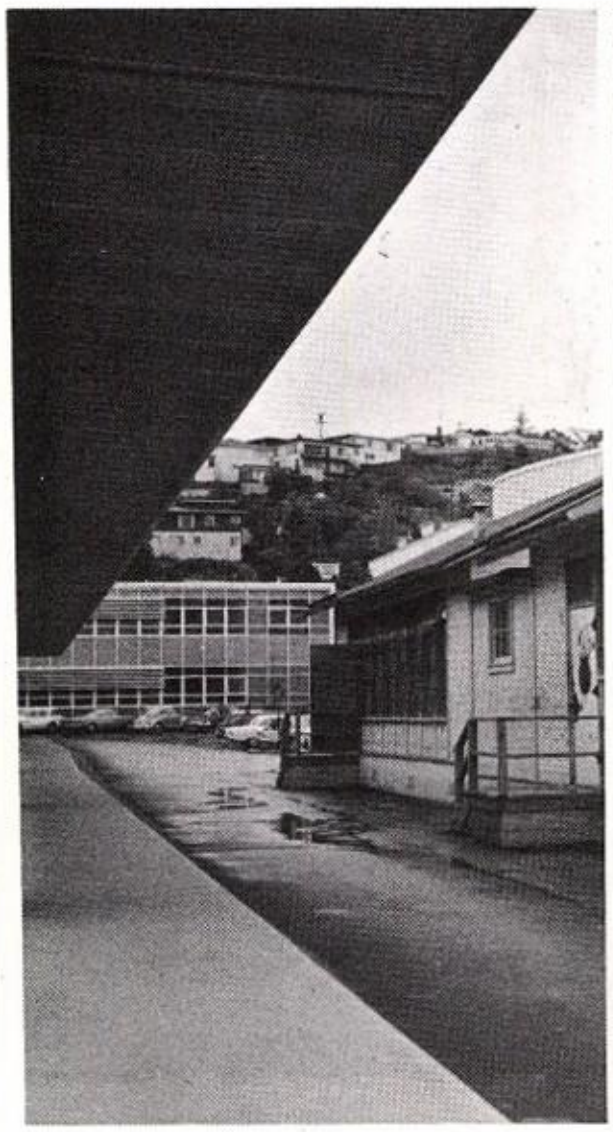
In a way, the candids section is the part of the 1964 Falcon that can be most readily dedicated to the late President Kennedy. We have attempted to capture between these pages the youthfulness of manner that endeared the late President to the countless youth of the world and to the young-at-heart.

Life is a funny ritual carried out by funny beings — Humans. The ability to see humor in the dullest or most unpleasant situations helps one put life in its proper perspective. The late President had this knack of seeing humor in almost any situation, and as a result he was a person much admired for his attitude toward life and his vitality of spirit.

In the candids section we have tried to prod the reader's imagination a bit to let him see the humor in some of life's occurrences: thus helping him to realize something he should already know — that life has its humorous aspects designed to soften its difficult moments.



To Randy Had a really fun round-table with you Kaye especially counting ballots. I'll always remember us as close friends. Remember me always LEE LEE
